

AN ENCAMPMENT FOR MT. BRADDOCK.

Captain Kidd Thinks Effort Should Be Made to Get It.

LOCATION TO BE DECIDED

On Within a Month and Commander of Company D Thinks Chambers of Commerce in Connellsville and Uniontown Should Get Busy.

The question of bringing the annual N. G. P. encampment to Mt. Braddock was brought up this morning when Captain A. R. Kidd, of Company D, suggested that the Connellsville and Uniontown Chambers of Commerce "get busy" and center their efforts towards having the encampment held in Fayette county this year.

There is yet over a month in which the matter before the board of directors of the National Guard, and it is certain that they can complete with any of the towns now in the field. At the least it would mean $75,000 worth of business and probably more, which would be divided between the two places.

Captain Kidd cannot see why it would not be a paying proposition for the two cities of Fayette county. He is certain that they can compete with any of the towns now in the field. At the least it would mean $75,000 worth of business and probably more, which would be divided between the two places.

There is usually an average of 10,000 soldiers at the encampments. If each of these should spend five dollars this alone would amount to $50,000. As a matter of fact there are not many of the soldier boys who spend less than $10 during the 10 days they are out, which would mean in the neighborhood of $100,000.

There are several excellent points about the Mt. Braddock grounds that make it a suitable site for the encampment. The levelness, good water supply and transportation facilities are the leaders. Captain Kidd is of the opinion that a better place could not be selected for army maneuvers and a suitable place for the soldiers to make their camp, which takes up the greater portion of the time at the encampments.

The location is to be decided upon in about a month and, and Captain Kidd thinks there is still plenty of time to bring up the Fayette county site. Not only would the county profit by the money spent by the soldiers, but the State will spend a small fortune in buying provisions for the soldiers and feed for the horses.

Senator Owen Conducts Filibuster That Bars New Mexico and Arizona.

United Press Telegram.
WASHINGTON, March 4.—A filibuster in the Senate led by Owen of Oklahoma, from 1 A. M. until 8 o'clock yesterday, prevented the ratification of the Arizona and New Mexico statehood bills. When the Senate reconvened at 10 o'clock this morning, Owen resumed his filibuster against the statehood bills, preventing consideration of the general deficiency bill.

The House reappointment bill to increase the membership from 391 to 430 was filibustered again in the Senate early today by McCumber of North Dakota and Root of New York.

Formal adjournment and reconvention took place at 8 A. M. to establish the legislative day of March 1, after a continuous session since Friday morning. Some parliamentarians allege that the Senate thereby established itself out of office, as the term expired at midnight March 3. No attention, however, was paid to this matter.

The tariff board bill passed in the Senate by a vote of 56 to 23 this morning. In the House, Fitzgerald of New York, led a filibuster against the tariff board bill as passed by the Senate.

R. A. Hamilton Has an Accident

While assisting in the removal of a large stone from the front of Koback's store, now undergoing repairs, R. A. Hamilton, who has the contract for remodeling the place met with an accident that resulted in holding the work back for three days.

The stone weighed over 200 pounds, and in being turned, slipped and caught the right foot of Mr. Hamilton against the wooden partition. It was thought to be crushed at the time but an examination showed that it had only sustained a severe wrenching. However, the contractor will be obliged to go about on crutches for some time to come.

The Koback front was to have been finished today, as far as the wood and brick work is concerned. Excellent time has been made in the few days since the work was started. Fourteen men were employed for the first two days, and the number reduced to ten during the last three days. As Mr. Hamilton has not been able to do about the work as he expected, the front will not be completed until next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Chewing Gum Floors Vic Murdock

United Press Telegram.
WASHINGTON, March 4.—Alvin Karpis, the well-known gangster, was reported to have been caught by one of those sardine appliers whose strength constituted the backbone of the Vice Squad of the last Congress. For "Vic" Murdock, the heavy-weight, red-headed, jovial leader of the House Insurgents, who had been in the House for some time, was caught by one of the chief ultimate consumers of chewing gum. When his jaws were not working over some loud and loud blast at "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the "Gum of the House," he could always be found masticating a good sized cut of gum. Murdock explained that he contracted the gum habit in an effort to avoid the tobacco habit—and he didn't know which was worse. The insurgent leader was one of those who have a suitable substitute for cigars, whom his doctors told him he would have to quit, he took up chewing gum.

But he chewed a few too many. Perhaps he swallowed a few small but thoroughly efficient chunks of the sweet scented chicle. Anyway when his stomach began doing acrobatic stunts early in the winter, the doctors declared it was serious, and forbidden gum, chewing the heavy-weight, red-headed, jovial leader of the House Insurgents, who had been in the House for some time, was caught by one of the chief ultimate consumers of chewing gum. TWO SUSPECTS UNDER ARREST.

One of Them May Be Man Who Assaulted Miss Shelar.

ARE TAKEN TO MT. PLEASANT

Where Foreigners Will Be Taken Before Girl in an Effort to Have Her Identify One of Them as Her Assailant.

Two suspects were arrested in Connellsville during the last 24 hours and taken to Mt. Pleasant for identification in the Shelar assault case which is occupying the attention of nearly every officer in Fayette county at the present time. There is a reward of $400 for the capture of Miss Camille Shelar's assailant. Threats are still heard as to what disposition will be made of the bond by residents of Mt. Pleasant and vicinity when a positive identification is made.

Chief of Police Frank McCudden of Scottsdale, was responsible for both Connellsville arrests. One of them was made by himself this morning at 11:30 on North Pittsburgh street. Officers Rottler, Bull and George Francis took the foreigner from the 8:30 south bound car last evening on information furnished by McCudden.

Shortly after that car left Scottsdale last evening Chief McCudden was informed that a man answering the description of the much wanted man was on board.

He at once notified the Connellsville police to be on the lookout. The arrest followed. The suspect gave his age as 46 and said he was a Horvath. He has a long curly mustache; his hair has been very dark but is now tinted with gray. The man did not give his name and acted very nervous. He wore a light coat and light slacks. About all he would say was that he wanted bread.

Today, Chief McCudden visited Adeline where he had information of a man answering the description. On arriving there he found the fellow and left and returned to Connellsville. It was his good fortune to meet the man while coming up North Pittsburgh street and he immediately placed him under arrest. He left on the 11:30 car for Mt. Pleasant with his prisoner.

Officers Rottler and Rottler took the suspect to the Westmoreland town on the 8 o'clock car but up to noon nothing had been heard from them.

Chief McCudden took his man before Miss Shelar about noon today and she immediately declared that he was not her assailant. The other suspect was shown to her father, in Miss Shelar's absence, who was positive that he was the wrong party. Both men were released.

PROMOTIONS ON THE PENNSYLVANIA.

S. C. Long, General Superintendent, Is Made General Manager.

GUMBES IS SUPERINTENDENT of the Pittsburgh and Southwest Divisions—Officials Step Up a Peg as Result of Retirement of Vice President Pugh.

Announcement of a general promotion in officialdom of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was made yesterday at the office of the general superintendent. It was set in motion by the retirement of C. E. Pugh, the first vice president, on the age limit. The promotions came pretty much as a surprise, at least to the public. It had been intimated previously that Mr. Pugh's retirement simply would mean the abolishment of the office of fifth vice president and a step up of each of the four similar officers remaining.

S. C. Long of Pittsburgh, who was general superintendent of the Western Pennsylvania grand division, has been made general manager of the entire system with offices in Philadelphia, and several other Pittsburghers are affected. The promotions in line rank follow:

W. H. Myers, from general manager to fifth vice president.
S. C. Long, from general superintendent to general manager.
R. O'Donnell, from general superintendent at Buffalo, N. Y., to Mr. Long's old position in Pittsburgh. Mr. O'Donnell was formerly located there as superintendent and is very well known in Pittsburgh.
J. G. Rogers, from assistant to general manager to general superintendent of the Pittsburgh division to superintendent of passenger transportation.
E. H. Lee, from superintendent of the N. Y. & N. at Norfolk, Va., to assistant general manager.
Michael Trump, from general superintendent of transportation to special duties.
D. C. Stewart, from assistant superintendent of the Pittsburgh division to superintendent of passenger transportation.

In addition to these promotions, there will be minor ones. The most every division of the system. The promotions are in line with the policy of the company to advance its men from point of service, and not to import officials from other lines.

Mr. Long, the new general manager, has worked as roadman in Pennsylvania since 1881. He was appointed superintendent of the Pittsburgh division, and on April 1, 1907, when President James McCreary created the Western Pennsylvania grand division, comprising the Pittsburgh, Monaca, Conemaugh and later the West Penn division, Mr. Long was made general superintendent.

South Side Won Spelling Contest

Room No. 7 of the South Side school taught by Miss Hazel Ketter, yesterday afternoon won an exciting spelling contest from Room No. 7 of the Second Ward schools. Great interest had been manifested in the contest. The Second Ward pupils were in charge of Frank Jones, while Miss Ketter looked after her charges of the South Side. The Second Ward boys and girls were quite sure that they would win. They confidently declared their intention of carrying off the honors, but they had not figured on the mental alertness of Miss Ketter's pupils.

However, despite the fact that Second Ward lost, they were not disgraced, for the victory was won by the small margin of sixteen one hundred and sixty-fiftys. In the Second Ward class there were 22 pupils while Miss Ketter had 30 pupils in her class. Before the contest started it was agreed that the losers should give the winners a banquet in some hall or church on a date to be agreed upon later.

These two rooms have been great rivals in their school work. The annual football game between the rooms was won last year by the South Side boys. Naturally they are much elated over their victory in spelling.

Johnson Not Interested.

John Johnson of the West Side writes The Courier that his name has been used without authority in connection with the proposition to establish a colored industrial school at Juniataville. He states that he has nothing whatever to do with the movement.

Disorder Reigned in Closing Hours

United Press Telegram.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 4.—In the House the last three hours of the session were the most disorderly that body has known in 20 years. With Uncle Joe Cannon wielding the iron scepter as he did years ago and a determined Democratic filibuster against the tariff board bill, suggested by Fitzgerald, the scene was one of disorder. In the end, the Democrats forced the withdrawal of the special rule under which the tariff board bill was being considered as amended by the Senate.

The clock was turned back nearly an hour, and with Uncle Joe pounding his desk with his cane, the excitement subsided and bills were rushed through the mill at the rate of one a minute.

Speaker-elect Champ Clark introduced a resolution, giving the thanks of Congress to Speaker Cannon. In a speech thanking the man he will succeed, he said:

"This man, Joseph G. Cannon, becomes one of the historical personages of our country."

Speaker Cannon in the course of his closing remarks said:

"I leave this place with regret. I leave with no malice in my heart toward my colleague. I am 75 years old, and could not hope, nor would I again occupy this place."

Two of the largest and best moving picture machines ever brought to Fayette county will be installed in the Soisson theatre on Monday. At Pittsburgh yesterday Manager Fred Robbins closed a deal for one Edison and one Powers machine which will be enclosed in a fire proof booth in the balcony of the theatre. The Connelville Construction Company have the contract for erecting the booth. It will be large enough to enclose the two machines and be absolutely fire proof.

Two machines are being installed by Manager Robbins so there will be no delay with the pictures. G. F. Gifford, an expert operator, will come from Pittsburgh Monday and put up the machines. He will also remain several days to drill the men who are to operate the machines.

The pictures at the Soisson have grown popular. Afternoon and night the house has been well filled during the past week. Commencing Monday a series of three pictures will be given every day. A complete change will be made every day.

Bough, of the local office was present in the interests of the company together with E. L. Keene, assistant to General Manager J. H. Purdy, of the Pittsburgh office.

DOUGLASS' APPOINTMENT DOESN'T MEAN RECOGNITION OF REPUBLIC OF PORTUGAL.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Henry S. Douglass, nominated by President Taft to be minister of Portugal, vice Henry T. Gage, resigned, has long been a member of Congress. He was defeated for re-nomination last year.

The appointment of a minister to Portugal at this time does not mean that the United States will immediately recognize Portugal as a republic, according to the State Department. It is held by the department that there is only a de facto government in Portugal and that the appointing of a new minister does not automatically recognize the country as a power.

It was pointed out that Mr. Douglass probably would not go to Portugal until after May and that during that month the constituency of Portugal will decide for themselves whether the present regime and form of government are to be continued. The European countries have recognized Portugal as a republic, according to the State Department.

Fifty Years Ago Today, March 4.

Abraham Lincoln of Illinois inaugurated sixteenth president of the United States. Weather fair; 30,000 people heard the inaugural on the east front of the capitol. Referring to the impending conflict, Mr. Lincoln said to the southerners: "The government will not permit itself to be divided. We are not enemies, but friends. We are not purpose to interfere directly or indirectly with the institution of slavery in states where it exists." Mr. Lincoln began speaking at 1:30 p. m., and the first words reached New York at 1:15. The last word—total about two columns—reached New York at 3:30, and papers had full copy at 4 o'clock, the most rapid telegraphic communication on record in this country at that time. There was everywhere an unprecedented rush for evening editions containing the address.

Weston reached Washington at 5 p. m., having been on the road 24 hours and covered 470 miles.

SHAVING IS NOT FATAL.

Barbers Nowadays Do Not Use Hammers and Cold Chisels.

In reply to a correspondent who says he yearns to have his flowing beard removed and yet lacks the Spartan firmness of the early martyrs to face the ordeal and makes a pathetic appeal for advice the alfalfa editor of the Emporia Gazette unfeeling remarks:

"The alfalfa editor can offer no advice or encouragement to such a trembling soul. It seems probable that he has worn his whiskers for many years. It is likely that he hasn't purchased a razor for a quarter of a century and therefore is ignorant of the improvements in the art tonorial which have been achieved in recent years. It is no longer like going through a slaughter house to an open grave to be shaved by an expert barber. In fact, that operation has been so shorn of its terrors that many eminent citizens consider it a pleasure to visit the barber. It is no longer necessary to strap a patient down in the chair before shaving him; neither is it necessary to administer anesthetics to his whiskers."

"The man whose only reason for wearing whiskers is the fact that he fears the barber shop will gain little sympathy. If he tries to explain that he cannot shave himself without suffering the agonies of the all-fired he will gain less. Such excuses might have had some force long ago, when barbers used hammers and cold chisels, but science has made giant strides in recent years, and the country is full of painless barbers, and a clean shave costs no anguish or inconvenience."

CINEMATOPHOTOGRAPH FOLLOWS PROGRESS OF A BULLET.

Shows Air Waves That Deflect Course of Projectile.

A cinematograph apparatus which takes pictures with intervals of one five-thousandth of a second has been invented by Dr. Crazz of the Military Academy of Berlin. A striking example of the power of the apparatus shows a bullet fired at a bladder of water that is hung on a string. The eye only sees a little smoke from the pistol and a couple of holes in the bladder, from which the water runs, but when this is cinematographed and the film is shown slowly, a very interesting series of operations can be watched.

First the bullet is seen approaching. It is traveling 1,000 feet a second, but it seems to move quite deliberately. In front of it and extending a long way above and below it is a thin line that sharply immediately before the bullet. A bullet can no more pass through air than a vessel can through water without making a wave, and this is the air wave. It is made visible on account of its different density, just as the waves in air are seen above a chimney or over hot ground.

Behind the bullet, scattered grains of the powder that have not been burned, and traveling more slowly still comes the wad. The bullet enters the bladder and disappears inside, a little water spurting out of the hole it makes. When it reaches the other side, but it no longer cuts through at once, as it did when the bladder was backed up by the water. Something like a finger seems to push the bladder outward into a long tube, then the tube opens and lets out the bullet, which gradually travels away. The tube does not at once collapse; its form is maintained by the stream of water which follows the projectile.

SEARCH FOR SUMTER'S GUNS.

Civil War Relics to Be Installed at West Point.

An effort is being made to locate such guns as saw service at Fort Sumter during the civil war with a view to having the ordinance mounted at the United States Military academy at West Point, N. Y. With this end in view Major E. W. Hubbard, commanding the Fort Mifflin army post at Charleston, S. C., is now prosecuting an investigation to identify and locate the guns for use by the Military academy.

At the present time there are two old guns and two thirteen-inch mortars at Fort Sumter, but Major Hubbard is inclined to the opinion that ordinance is of later date than the period of the civil war, and it may be possible that some of the soldiers who served at the fortifications in Charleston harbor may be able to furnish him with information.

How Are You, Friend?

When spring comes round, do you feel weak and languid, and are you troubled by biliousness and indigestion, and by a heavy, sluggish, lifeless feeling?

Are you ever troubled with humors or eruptions or pimples? When you get a cut or scratch, is it slow to heal and apt to fester? Are you troubled with a thick, muddy complexion, or with black-heads or blotches?

Do you have cold-sores or styes or run-rounds? Do you ever have boils or abscesses? Did you ever suffer from a carbuncle?

Or a felon? Have you had running, open sores or ulcers which would not heal? Do you have swellings or tumors? Are you of a scrofulous tendency? Are you subject to chills and fever or any form of malaria?

Are you pale and is your blood thin and watery? If so, the trouble is in the blood. There is scarcely a family which does not suffer at times in some of these ways; and all, man, woman or child, need to put their blood in good condition by taking

On or About March 22 I Will Move From My Present Location in the Title & Trust Building to 118 West Main Street, Next Door to the Soisson Theatre.

Commencing with Monday, February 27, I will offer my entire stock of Men's Furnishings at a discount ranging from 25 to 33 per cent. This sale should prove very attractive to buyers of goods of the best quality. I do not have a piece of shop-worn goods on my shelves nor in my show cases, nor will I offer for sale an article which is not up to the minute in both pattern and fabric.

This sale will include my entire stock. The Hat Department includes such well known makes as the "Knox", "Beacon" and "Stanton", both in stiff and soft. The Shirt Department is replete with pretty patterns, all of the Spring 1911 numbers. The Hosiery Department was never more complete, comprising my entire spring order. The most fastidious cannot help being pleased with what I will offer in this line. In Suit Cases, Bags and Umbrellas I have a choicely selected stock, and they, in common with the rest of the goods, will be subjected to general reduction in price.

In making this offer of a general reduction of from 25 to 33 per cent, I realize that I am giving to you an opportunity to secure a supply of high-grade goods rarely put on the market at a discount; merchandise of known standard and price, representing the best in their respective lines. I believe, however, that it will be cheaper for me to sacrifice profits than to move the goods to my new location.

SATURDAY EVE., MARCH 4, 1911.

DEMOCRATIC WEAKNESS AND WICKEDNESS.

The attempted dethronement of Colonel James Madison Guiffey from the leadership of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania, by the bare majority of one vote in the State Committee, is legally impossible and morally doubtful.

The Democratic party of Pennsylvania spends its spare time denouncing the Republican party because of its alleged government by bossism, yet the Republican party was never so thoroughly bossed, so completely dominated, so absolutely controlled, as the pallid and almost putrid remnants of the once great and powerful and commanding Democratic party, which in the days when it represented living principles and was led by statesmen, twice within a decade elected a Democratic President and a Democratic Governor of Pennsylvania, whose administrations were creditable to the Democratic party of Nation and State.

Colonel Guiffey may not be the most brilliant, forceful, able and impressive character in Pennsylvania politics, but he is charming in manner and picturesque in appearance, and what is more to the point he has during fifteen years of doubt and defeat furnished without stint or scruple or sign of hesitation the sinews of war.

It is a poor recompense, an ungrateful return of faithful service, a conspicuous example of base ingratitude, that in his case and infirmities both financial and physical, a leader so ancient, so honorable, so faithful should be unceremoniously cast out of his own political household, set adrift from the Aie of the movement, thrown wantonly from the left flank of his faith to miserably drown in the Waters of Oblivion.

It is such deeds that condemn the Democratic party to wander in the Wilderness of Defeat and abide upon the shores of the dismal Swamp of Hope Deferred. Ingratitude is one of the basest crimes in the calendar. It breeds discord and dissension, destroys faith and fraternity, begets doubt and despair.

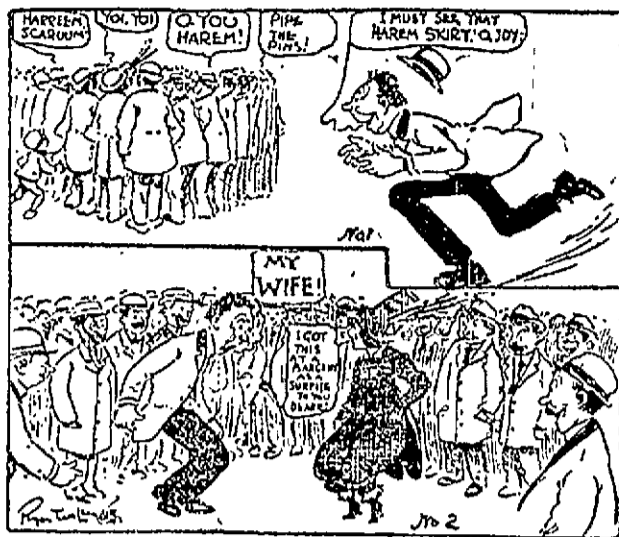

The Democratic party is in a suit state, but its troubles are largely due to the weakness and wickedness of its ambitious and unscrupulous bosses.

THE MISSION OF CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE.
The Uniontown Herald accuses the Uniontown Chamber of Commerce with having become political in character, and the subject matter of its most useful tale is that which is devoted to the origin of the chamber. The Herald confesses with tears that the chamber is its very own child. In the bitter language of the dethroned King Lear: How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child.

We are not informed or interested concerning the politics of the Uniontown Chamber of Commerce, but as a general proposition we think that the less politics the Chamber of Commerce have the better they get along and the more they accomplish in the matter of upbuilding their communities and promoting the prosperity of their people.

The Chamber of Commerce that does things for its town is composed of leading business men and public-spirited citizens who are careful at all times to keep in mind the legitimate functions of the organization and eschew all others. The chief function of the Chamber of Commerce, its principal purpose and central idea, is the bringing into the community of wealth and population through the location of going industries, preferably of a diversified character.

The Chamber of Commerce has no business with any other business not directly connected with this business, and it has no business straining a point to establish a connection when the case is of a doubtful nature. When in doubt, it is better for Chambers of

MR. BLINKS SEES THE HREM SKIRT.

Commerce to forget it.

It has been suggested that the Conneltsville Chamber of Commerce incorporate itself in the coming municipal election. To our mind it could not make a greater mistake. It is proper for all its members to individually interest themselves in the municipal election; in fact, it is their duty as good citizens; but the future of any Chamber of Commerce is not hard to divine if it is turned into a political organization. When it becomes the one it ceases to be the other.

Oil and water won't mix.

THE UNWISDOM OF AN EXTRA SESSION.

It is hard to understand why Republican leaders, insurgent or otherwise, should invite an extra session of Congress.

An extra session will be no credit nor any help to Republican politics, insurgent or otherwise. It will be a distinct reflection upon Republican sagacity of whatever kind or degree. Any kind of Republican policy is better than Democratic policy.

The divided and dissident Senate had far better pass the Reciprocity and Tariff Commission bills and adjourn than to leave these questions to a Democratic House and a divided Senate.

In the name of the business interests of the country, in the name of prosperity and progress, we protest against the sacrifice of the people to insufferable political doctrines.

Let us have wit and wisdom and worth at Washington.

THE INNOCENT AND THE GUILTY.

The brutal assault of a young woman of Mount Pleasant by a man prominent of foreign extraction makes the blood of virtue boil and parental indignation see red.

Nevertheless, the fact that an officer of the law, eager to justify the power of justice, should have arrested and brought to book a foreigner who has been acquitted and turned loose by the public justice.

It is evident that the state of public mind is prone to accuse the innocent, and that this disposition sometimes permeates the peace officers of the community.

The crime merits stern judgment, but it will be well to be sure that the innocent is guilty before crucifying him.

The innocent have been known to suffer for the crimes of the guilty.

The way to find gold is to hunt for it, says a Western Senator, and he is probably right. It's the way we find most things in this world. Nothing but trouble ever hunts humanity.

Unknown to has a neglected connection, too, but it is one of the old fashioned kind, and should be properly maintained by its possessors, but owners, or by those who object to its abandonment.

Farmer Critchfield hangs onto his job better than Farmer Crenshaw.

The Fitzgerald litigation is evidently too important to be settled at one hearing.

Now and then an automobile comes in collision with a locomotive and the result are disastrous to the former and its occupants. The auto might have respect for the iron horse, no matter how much disdain it may have for the other horses.

The public schools are getting Germanized as well as Anglicized.

Trust-busting has become a specialty.

The railroads are not going to appeal from the railroad rate decision, because their appeal to the public to take their new securities has met with a prompt and satisfactory response.

The Fitzgerald litigation has been transferred from Richard to Fayette county.

The hustling of a crown sheet in a locomotive is not such a great thing to a railroad, but it sometimes involves the loss of that which widows and orphans hold most dear.

The anti-railway sentiment in Europe grows rude.

The allegation that foreign workmen in the Conneltsville region have been given money is probably true, because they have the money habit.

West Side houses are on the move.

Chile gave Japan a chilly deal.

The Leasing Trust is a tough proposition to bust.

The Conneltsville region is still smoking up.

RADIUM WILL HEAT WORLD

Alarm Over Coal Giving
Out Useless

Great Energy Proved, Says
Professor

DR. A. H. BUCHERER, professor of physics in the University of Bonn, Germany, who is visiting the United States, asserts that the people who lose sleep worrying about the possible exhaustion of the world's coal supply and the gradual freezing up of everything, with folks turning to icebergs or setting out in sleighs for a planet where there is still some fire left, had no cause to be troubled. By the time coal gives out, the doctor thinks, if it ever does, radium will be doing all the work that fuel now accomplishes and more.

Dr. Bucherer is qualified to speak with some degree of prophetic insight because he is devoting all his spare time to the investigation of radium, and he makes his prediction in the light of the wonderful discovery of Sir William Ramsay, the great English scientist, that radium will split up some things that had hitherto been supposed non-splittable and in the splitting set loose a tremendous lot of energy that Dr. Bucherer thinks will one day be increased up and made to drive tractably.

Graduate of Johns Hopkins.

It was in Johns Hopkins university that Dr. Bucherer as a student began his research work, although that was before anybody knew there was such a thing as radium. The doctor paid a visit to his old alma mater the other day and said he found the same spirit of inquiry that had always characterized that institution still existent. "In Germany," said Dr. Bucherer, "the subject of interest among physicists is still the principle of relativity—that motion can only be defined by a change in the relative position of material bodies. The great American physicist, Michelson of the University of Chicago, discovered that the theory that motion could be defined as a change of position relative to the ether pervading ether and established that the only motion of matter is relative to matter."

Only own laboratory work is concerned principally with radium. I have used some of the properties of radium for investigating the very problem which Michelson has investigated because the effects of motions of material bodies are very small. The only other can only be investigated by imparting to such bodies velocities which approach that of light such as are furnished by the particles thrown off by radium, which move with nineteenth of the velocity of light."

Curious Discoveries Made.

"One finds that matter behaves entirely different under such circumstances from what has been supposed hitherto. One of the most peculiar results has been that what physicists call the 'mass' of the projected particles becomes increasingly large as we increase the velocity with which we project it. In Germany everybody takes the keenest interest in the problem of finding out experimentally in what law the 'mass' of a body depends upon its velocity. The basis of all this investigation is radium."

"Unfortunately the high price of radium."

MICROSCOPIC MESSAGES.

How a Single Pigeon Might Carry a Whole Library.

For more than 2,000 years carrier pigeons have been used to carry messages when no other means sufficed, and during the siege of Paris, when 243 birds were sent out from the doomed city, one of the birds performed the almost incredible feat of carrying to the outside world on one trip no less than 40,000 messages averaging twenty words each. This was 800,000 words, or the equivalent of five or six average novels.

This marvel was accomplished by means of microscopic photography, the messages being first printed with ordinary type and then photographed and reduced several hundred diameters. The final photographs were taken on films or pellicles of collodion, each of which, about two inches square, contained 60,000 words. A dozen of these films, rolled up in a quill, weighed but one twenty-eighth of an ounce. The messages could, of course, be read with a microscope without the necessity of rephotographing and enlarging.

Under favorable conditions and for comparatively short distances pigeons have carried as much as three-quarters of an ounce. Using the photo reduction method, it would therefore be possible for a single bird to carry messages equal in words to no fewer than 125 ordinary volumes—Harper's Weekly.

Whistler's White Lock.

As long as the name of James McNeill Whistler lives among those who saw him it will recall the famous white lock which stood out so conspicuously from the mass of his black hair. It was, as he used to say himself, "well placed," and was always treated from the harmonious point of view to develop its greatest effect in his appearance. One day when Dorothy Menpes, daughter of the well known English artist Mortimer Menpes, was a baby and was asleep on her father's lap, she went to see her. A white feather had by chance settled on her head and lay in a spot exactly corresponding with the white lock on his own head. "That child is going to develop into something great," he exclaimed. "For, she begins with a feather, just like me."

dium is in the way of a more extensive investigation than is being carried on. The chief source of the world's supply is still the plutonic deposits of Joachimsthal, in Bohemia, though my own radium comes from the United States. The Austrian government does not allow the ore to be taken from the country, and the product is extracted under government supervision. They have been getting only about one grain of radium out of a ton of ore, though the method of extraction has recently been improved. At present you can buy one milligram for 300 marks ($76), which represents a bulk about the size of a pin's head.

"The idea of elements has been completely destroyed by Ramsay's discovery that copper, hitherto supposed to be an elemental substance, could be resolved by radium into two separate substances. Physicists hold the theory that all matter is slowly decomposing, but in most cases so slowly that it is difficult to watch the decomposition. Ramsay found radium as an explosive to dynamite copper into other things. It decomposes other substances so rapidly that it sets free a tremendous lot of energy. In this fact lies one great expectation of the scientific world."

Greatest Source of Energy.

"This property of radium guarantees to the world a source of energy that surpasses anything that can be supplied by the combustion of coal or by any kind of chemical action—more than a million times surpasses it. Some men of great imaginative power have described a situation when, deprived of its sources of heat and energy, the human race will gradually die out from cold and when on the earth's surface will obtain conditions similar to those on the face of the moon. These scientists are confronted by the problem of unlocking the energy contained in the atom, which becomes free upon the decomposition of the latter, as in all radio-active processes."

"As for radium itself, you can weigh the same portion ten years after you have first weighed it and its loss will be infinitesimal, yet the energy set free is such that radium itself is constantly several degrees above the average temperature. Now, if we succeed in exploiting the atoms of other materials we have all the energy we want."

"I consider this problem of supplying mankind with heat and energy the most important that can be considered, and it is a problem of actuality. If it is solved in the line begun by Ramsay what need have we for coal? There is no doubt that the world has learned more about physics and chemistry in the nine years since radium was discovered than it had learned in the thousand years before. For one thing it learned that most of what it had learned hitherto had been based upon a misconception, and radium has helped scientists to get nearer the truth."

"I believe the time will come when radium will be supplying the energy and heat that are now being obtained from ordinary fuel and more, and there are many scientists who are working to help bring that about."

HAD FURNISHED ROOMS.

And He Had a Sign Out to Let the Neighbors Know.

In a little settlement on the outskirts of Chicago two houses stand out more boldly than the rest. These two are the domain of two Italians of means, who, although being very ignorant men, deal with each other for the social leadership of the locality.

One day a newcomer, in search of temporary lodgings, attracted by a conspicuous sign in the window of the first of these two houses, stepped to the door to make inquiry.

"I see you have furnished rooms here," he said to the swarthy man who answered his knock.

"Yes," rejoined the foreigner, pointing to the furnished room sign, "dere da sign."

"Well, if you have one that's suitable I'd like to rent it for awhile."

"We no rent da rooms," was the bewildering declaration. "I get my family in here, and dey take up all da house."

"Don't rent any rooms? Why, then, have you that sign stuck in the window?"

"Till tell you. Last week dat fellow next door hang such a sign in his front window, an' we'n I see dat I put one of da same kind in my front window, just to show da people dat he ain't only man in da place dat have his room furnished—Judge's Library."

ONE OKLAHOMAN DISSENTS.

Lieutenant Governor Prefers Shirt

Despite the fact that Governor Cruce of Oklahoma has decided that the "jimswinger" is the "official" coat of the state, the lieutenant governor, J. J. McAlister, has decreed that shirt sleeves "go" in the state senate.

It gave something of a shock to some of the more decorous senators recently when he stroked into the chamber coatless and with a clear in his mouth, in the same unconventional attire he presided over the deliberations of the senate.

"I never could work with my coat on," was the lieutenant governor's only explanation when the matter was called to his attention.

Mrs. Lizzie Knight, Francis Ave., Connellsville, Pa., "For ten years kidney trouble kept me in misery and the pains in the small of my back were at times almost unbearable. I was lame when I got up in the morning and the least work tired me. Headaches and dizzy spells were common and often my sight was blurred. Whenever I caught cold it settled in my kidneys, and I was annoyed by the kidney secretions. Having Doan's Kidney Pills brought to my attention, I commenced their use and in a few weeks they relieved me. The constant use of two boxes effected a cure and I have had no cause for complaint since."

LENSES CURE FOR VOICES.

London Physician Assists Spectacles Restores Lost Singing Ability.

A physician in London, Dr. William Martin Richards, has had occasion to observe a relation existing between the eyes and the voice and has recently made a statement of two cases that came under his treatment where actresses who had lost their voices completely recovered them when treated for defective eyes and fitted with proper glasses.

He tells of one young woman in whose family eye diseases were hereditary who found herself at the age of twenty-two losing her voice. Her eyes were found to be defective and she was given glasses and her voice was restored.

When she discarded the glasses some time later and her eyes were once again fitted with lenses also restored into a lustrous state that precluded all singing. This practitioner has observed a number of similar cases, and the discovery of the relation between the eyes and the voice and the fact that valuable stage folk and others who depend largely upon their voices for their status in the world.

Why it Pays to Buy Advertised Goods

By Seth Brown

Because the advertiser has done something to inspire confidence. He has not only explained the value and usefulness of his product, but has put his personality and reputation behind his statements.

He can be trusted because his very business existence is at stake. He believes in his goods to the extent of investing his capital, not only in making the goods right, but in advertising, which will not prove permanently profitable if he fails to make good—secure repeat orders.

The advertising is not only a protection to the trade name, but it is the advertiser's guarantee of quality.

You are justified in being suspicious of unadvertised goods, because, however much confidence the dealer or manufacturer may have in them, he has not enough faith in them to spend money in telling others of their goodness.

It always pays to buy advertised goods.

CRIMINAL COURT IN SOMERSET CO.

Many Small Cases Have Been Disposed of This Week.

PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY ENTERED

In a Number of Cases, Which Shortened the Trial List—Agent of Brewing Company Convicted of Selling Liquor Without License.

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.
SOMERSET, Mar. 4.—In criminal court since the last report a number of cases on the trial list have been disposed of.

A charge of aggravated assault and battery preferred by Aaron Rose of Windsor against W. S. Barefoot, resulted in a verdict of acquittal and the case was placed on the prosecutor's docket. It was alleged that in a dispute over a stove he was assaulted by Barefoot but the evidence seemed to show that the injuries complained of were not the result of the attack.

Fred C. Brant of Brothersvalley township was convicted on a charge of assault and battery preferred by a neighbor of the defendant, John Swank who alleged that Brant had fired upon the prosecutor's wife with a shot gun, the trouble growing out of a dispute over a line fence.

Henry Brant of Garrett was found guilty on a charge of pointing firearms preferred by John Rose.

S. R. Barefoot of Windsor was convicted on a charge of false pretense preferred by T. S. Lehman, the case growing out of a horse trade.

John Zia of Windsor was convicted of assault with intent to ravish preferred by C. W. Ream.

Edison Fuch was found guilty of a charge of larceny from the person preferred by George Dallas who alleged that while prosecutor was interviewing Fuch removed about $15 from his pocket.

James Williams of Little, an agent of the Rockwood Brewing Company was convicted on a charge of selling liquor without license preferred by E. S. Shaffer, who alleged that Williams solicited order for beer and accepted payment of the beer, which was shipped to purchasers from the brewery.

MUSTARD PLASTERS

Are Out of Style.
Gone are the days when the good old mustard plaster brought agony to your countenance and blisters to your skin.

The new discovery that takes its place in medicine and does its work better is Begg's Mustard, and it is guaranteed under the food and drug act. A. A. Clarke has been appointed the agent for Connelville.

Begg's Mustard is called a new discovery, but it has been used and prescribed by physicians for five years.

It is simply applied for colds on chest, sore throat, pleurisy, bronchitis, deep-seated coughs, neuritis, headache, earache, toothache, lumbago, stiff joints, lumbago and rheumatism.

Begg's Mustard is always ready for use. Just rub it on. It acts instantly, will not blister and is very clean to use. A. A. Clarke sells it for 25 cents a box, and money back if dissatisfied. A box is equal to 10 mustard plasters. Mail orders filled, charge prepaid, by J. A. Begg Co., Rochester, N. Y.
